

BIFF COMES HOME Introduction Oh, No! Biff the Bully is moving in. His parents are on vacation and he's staying with Honest Jake. What will Jake and the rest of the Spruce Street Six do? The following scenes will ask you to choose right actions and weigh different virtues. Sometimes it helps to ask yourself, "What Would Zaki Do?"	#1 Biff hasn't been in Jake's room 15 minutes when he breaks his telescope. Biff says he is sorry, so Jake forgives him. Then Biff asks to play with Jake's new microscope. Should Jake: A. Let Biff play with his microscope, or B. Not let him play with his microscope?	#1 Biff hasn't been in Jake's room 15 minutes when he breaks his telescope. Biff says he is sorry, so Jake forgives him. Then Biff asks to play with Jake's new microscope. Should Jake: A. Let Biff play with his microscope, or B. Not let him play with his microscope?	#1 Biff hasn't been in Jake's room 15 minutes when he breaks his telescope. Biff says he is sorry, so Jake forgives him. Then Biff asks to play with Jake's new microscope. Should Jake: A. Let Biff play with his microscope, or B. Not let him play with his microscope?	#2 Biff's teacher accuses him of stealing from her desk during lunch. Jake was with Biff during lunch and knows he didn't steal anything—this time. But Biff always gets away with doing bad things, and he needs to learn a lesson. Should Jake: A. Tell the teacher that Biff is innocent, or B. Say nothing to teach Biff that stealing is wrong?	#2 Biff's teacher accuses him of stealing from her desk during lunch. Jake was with Biff during lunch and knows he didn't steal anything—this time. But Biff always gets away with doing bad things, and he needs to learn a lesson. Should Jake: A. Tell the teacher that Biff is innocent, or B. Say nothing to teach Biff that stealing is wrong?	#2 Biff's teacher accuses him of stealing from her desk during lunch. Jake was with Biff during lunch and knows he didn't steal anything—this time. But Biff always gets away with doing bad things, and he needs to learn a lesson. Should Jake: A. Tell the teacher that Biff is innocent, or B. Say nothing to teach Biff that stealing is wrong?	#3 Jake is headed to the Spruce Street Six tree house. He sees Biff sitting on a park bench looking very lonely. He wants to make Biff feel better. But Jake knows that his friends don't want Biff at the tree house. Should Jake: A. Bring Biff without asking, or B. Ask before bringing Biff, knowing that his friends will likely say no?
#4 Jake and Biff go to the church to ask Reverend Parks for a chore to make money. As they clean, Biff breaks a vase by mistake. The Reverend says, "That vase cost $4.00. To learn responsibility, you should pay the church back for that." Should: A. Biff pay for the vase, since he broke it, or B. They split the cost, since they were earning money together?	#5 Jake and Biff are horsing around in the living room. Jake breaks an expensive plate. He knows he will be in a lot of trouble. Biff offers to take the blame because Jake's parents won't punish a guest. Should Jake: A. Allow Biff to take the blame, or B. Tell his parents that he broke the plate?	#5 Jake and Biff are horsing around in the living room. Jake breaks an expensive plate. He knows he will be in a lot of trouble. Biff offers to take the blame because Jake's parents won't punish a guest. Should Jake: A. Allow Biff to take the blame, or B. Tell his parents that he broke the plate?	#5 Jake and Biff are horsing around in the living room. Jake breaks an expensive plate. He knows he will be in a lot of trouble. Biff offers to take the blame because Jake's parents won't punish a guest. Should Jake: A. Allow Biff to take the blame, or B. Tell his parents that he broke the plate?	ACTION CARD Everyone tell of something brave you did this week that was courageous but not foolhardy. Take a vote to see who is most courageous (no one can vote for themselves). Whoever receives the majority of the votes gets to keep this card for being brave! This card is worth 4 Virtue Points.	ACTION CARD Everyone tell of something brave you did this week that was courageous but not foolhardy. Take a vote to see who is most courageous (no one can vote for themselves). Whoever receives the majority of the votes gets to keep this card for being brave! This card is worth 4 Virtue Points.	ACTION CARD Everyone tell of something brave you did this week that was courageous but not foolhardy. Take a vote to see who is most courageous (no one can vote for themselves). Whoever receives the majority of the votes gets to keep this card for being brave! This card is worth 4 Virtue Points.	Movie: My Hero! To earn a secret look at the Scene Card of your choice you need to tell everyone playing the game which person you admire. If successful, you can move your character and roll again!

